About Western Oregon University:

Western Oregon University is a regional public, mid-sized university – committed to changing lives, strengthening communities and transforming our world. Located in Monmouth, the heart of Oregon's lush Willamette Valley, WOU is about 20 minutes from Salem, the state's capital and about 75 minutes from Portland, the state's cultural hub.

Western is one of Oregon's oldest public institutions of higher education and was incorporated into the state system as a teacher training institution in 1882. The university offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in arts and sciences, education and professional areas. It's known for small class sizes, a focus on sustainability and a diverse liberal arts education in a student-centered environment. Western is an emerging Hispanic Serving institution, with over 40% of undergraduates being students of color.

Position Summary:

The Sociology Department is seeking a dynamic and motivated full-time non-tenure track instructor to teach a variety of undergraduate sociology courses. The successful candidate will be responsible for delivering high-quality instruction in foundational courses such as Introduction to Sociology, Quantitative Methods in Sociology, Sociological Theory, and Social Problems, as well as offering additional courses based on expertise and departmental needs. The ideal candidate will be passionate about fostering critical thinking and analytical skills in students while contributing to the department's commitment to inclusive and innovative teaching.
