About Western Oregon University:

Western Oregon University is a regional public, mid-sized university – committed to changing lives, strengthening communities and transforming our world. Located in Monmouth, the heart of Oregon's lush Willamette Valley, WOU is about 20 minutes from Salem, the state's capital and about 75 minutes from Portland, the state's cultural hub.

Western is one of Oregon's oldest public institutions of higher education and was incorporated into the state system as a teacher training institution in 1882. The university offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in arts and sciences, education and professional areas. It's known for small class sizes, a focus on sustainability and a diverse liberal arts education in a student-centered environment. Western is an emerging Hispanic Serving institution, with over 40% of undergraduates being students of color.

Position Summary:

The position is housed within the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics at Western Oregon University, which provides learning opportunities and prepares students for meaningful lives in a global society while supporting an inclusive, accessible, and diverse campus community. The department sponsors 14 NCAA Division II sports through the Great Northwest Athletic Conference (GNAC), serving over 450 student-athletes. This position plays a key role in supporting the health and well-being of student-athletes, with a primary focus on providing medical care to the Western Oregon Football Team. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Basic emergency care and event coverage
- Risk management and injury prevention
- Evaluation, recognition, and immediate treatment of athletic injuries or illnesses
- Rehabilitation and reconditioning
- Coordination with the team physician for pre-participation evaluations and return-to-play decisions
- Psychosocial intervention and referrals
- Nutritional guidance related to injuries and recovery
- Administrative duties as assigned

Athletics staff are expected to maintain a professional appearance and demeanor and adhere to all university policies and procedures, including but not limited to Title IX and FERPA.
